Provincial Election Victors

DR. L. GIOVANDO

Residents of this district learned this week who will represent them in the provincial legislature in the immediate future. Dr. L. Giovando, former member for The Islands, scored a surprise victory over David Stupich, C.C.F., in the recount. He is the only Progressive Conservative candidate elected at present. In Saanich, Social Credit John D. T. Tisdalle scored a resounding victory over the former member, C.C.F.'er Frank Snowsell. He had led by a wide margin in the first count and won easily.

J. D. T. TISDALLE

Mr. Ross emphasized that the present project is purely an introductory one and that the lighting system will be extended over a period of time to other parts of the gardens.

NIGHT LIGHTING OF FAMOUS BUTCHART'S GARDENS IS ACCLAIMED BY VISITORS

Butchart's Gardens, long one of the most inviting tourist meccas in this district, took on a new brilliance last week when the new night lighting system was put into service for the first time. The gardens are now illuminated each evening until 11:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross, operators of the world famous gardens, entertained a large number of guests on Wednesday evening last on the occasion of the official opening of the night lighting project. Mr. Ross is a grandson of the founders of the gardens. Following the reception visitors were taken in escorted parties to different parts of the gardens and the impressive foliage, trees and flowers at night drew warm commendation. Mr. Ross emphasized that the present project is purely an introductory one and that the lighting system will be extended over a period of time to other parts of the gardens.

Soft Moonlight

The gardens have not been over-illuminated. Mr. Ross' objective was to light the garden areas softly and he has succeeded admirably in this purpose. The appearance is of mellow moonlight. This has been attained by spotlights high among the trees and in smaller capped lamps comparatively low to the ground. Lighting of a lily pool is unique.

Central Saanich craftsmen were employed to a great extent in the major construction job. A vast system of underground cables was laid, all electrical work being carried out under the direction of V.C. Dawson, head of the Dawson Electric of Brentwood. Stands for the various lamps were manufactured by Hafer Bros., plant at Keating. Mr. Ross has emphasized his satisfaction with the manner in which the major job has been carried out.

Victoria Symphony Orchestra will present a series of evening concerts in Butchart's Gardens during the months of July and August.

SUDDEN DEATH OF SIDNEY MAN, JULY 1

The death occurred suddenly at his Sidney home on Wednesday of Wilson Thompson, retired banker, who had resided here since 1949. He was well known throughout the community for the high quality of roses and other flowers which he grew in his garden. He took an active interest in public affairs here.

The deceased was a native of England and came to Canada at an early age. He served with the Royal Bank of Canada, being a branch manager for many years in Saskatchewan.

The late Mr. Thompson is survived by his widow in Sidney, and a brother in England. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

DAMAGE OF $275 IN SIDNEY COLLISION

An accident at the intersection of Fourth St. and Baker Ave. resulted in $275 damage to the two cars involved. Drivers of the cars were Hugh Godwin and James Robertson, Sidney detachment of the R.C.M.P., was in attendance. No injuries to persons were reported.

Crowning of Joan Michell Features Gay Sidney Day

—Weatherman Is Kind

After parading through Sidney at the head of the decorated floats, Miss Joan Michell was crowned Sidney Queen before the grandstand at the Memorial Park on Wednesday afternoon. The crowning ceremony was performed by last year's queen, Miss Yateve Swift.

The ceremony followed the parade and fire demonstration, given by the crews of Central Saanich and North Saanich volunteer fire departments. The firemen extinguished a blazing hut and demonstrated the attack on an oil fire.

Acclaimed the most attractive float in the parade was that of Eddy Eng, Beacon Cafe. It was awarded the trophy for the best entry. Judging was carried out by Deep Cove artist D. J. L. Anderson.

Heavy traffic congestion at the park entrance and beyond resulted in a delay before many visitors arrived in the park.

During the afternoon visitors were entertained by the Eagles' band and drill team from Victoria and many other features under the direction of the Sidney Rotary Club.

The community hall fund gained more than $20, when Miss Agnes Pearson entered a decorated car featuring a barrel for donations.

W. Stewart, president of the

He Likes Pie
Saanich Peninsula branch of the Canadian Legion, was the winner of the presidential pie-eating contest. The contest was staged ahead of time due to the effect of the sun on the meringue.

Winners of the ladies' nail driving contest were Mrs. J. Eaton, Mrs.

MISS JOAN MICHELL

J. C. Erickson and Mrs. Hawes. Highly successful dance was staged in the Patricia Bay armories during the evening by the Sidney Community Club.

Other successful entries in the parade included: commercial, 2, Turner Sheet Metal; 3, Sidney Cash and Carry; Organizational, 1, I.O.D.E.; 2, Sidney Community Club; 3, Junior Lacrosse; Novelty, 1, Beacon Motors; 2, R. Gilbert and group; 3, Central Saanich volunteer fire department. Cars, 1, Mary's Coffee Bar; 2, Sidney Community Hall Fund; 3, Canadian Legion Ladies' Auxiliary. Bicycles, 1, Shirley Anderson; 2, Denis Anderson; 3, Beulah Eckert. Tricycles, 1, Mrs. W. J. Trousdale.

Tomorrow Will Be Better If You Start To Improve It Today

(By Muriel D. Wilson)
HAVE you ever opened your eyes wide enough before breakfast to see the world rubbing the sleep out of its eyes? Early this morning I walked up to the spring. By the time I had crossed the big field my feet were soaking wet. I didn't mind... heavy dew was good for the garden.

There is a great serenity in the woods in the early morning, you can feel it. The air on your face is cool as peppermint, the smell of the sea through the evergreens is keen and fresh. Birds are waking, the flutter of wings is everywhere. There's the distant tinkle of sheep bells and the sound of oars in the oarlocks of an early fisherman's boat. As I came out on the logging road two deer sprang into the woods... I felt like shouting after them "you do well to run, lovely creatures, for man is your enemy" but they did not stop to listen.

It is a green cool place under great trees where the spring is. Sword ferns waist high grow here in great profusion. Clear sparkling water bubbles up into a tremendous sherry cask sunk six feet into the ground. Galvanized pipe, 1,400 feet of it carry the water down to the house by gravity. It is icy cold and tests 100% pure. We are fortunate to have such a treasure. On the way back I scared an arm and a leg on a patch of wicked stinging nettles... remind me to take the grass hook with me next time I go that way.

Wedding Bells
June is the month for wedding bells. It is a joyous thing to see young love altar bound with stars in their eyes, but how much more wonderful to see love that has endured down through the years.

Love is hard to define... in the movies everything ends with two people standing in front of the preacher, in real life that is just the beginning. Hollywood makes all the women slim and beautiful and the husbands like Gregory Peck. They all have beautiful

CHANGE COLOR
Central Saanich police have changed color. Hitherto the municipality issued its chief constable with a blue uniform. The new chief, Constable Fred Brownlee, has been issued with a khaki uniform.

TWO COURT CASES
Two cases were heard in Sidney police court last week. A $20 fine was imposed on a driver convicted of exceeding the 50 m.p.h. speed limit and a charge of careless driving resulted in a $25 fine.

A SIZZLING SUCCESS

Saturna Island's annual lamb barbecue staged at Croker Point on Wednesday, July 1, proved a sizzling success. No less than 640 visitors came by boat, plane and on foot to attend the celebration. Ten delectable island lambs were barbecued to a turn by competent chefs and the visitors ate their fill under the trees.

Fires were started at 5 a.m. and the lambs started to cook at 10 o'clock. By 2:30 all were done to a golden brown and they disappeared as if by magic.

Games were enjoyed and athletic competitions engaged in vigorously.

The harbor presented an imposing picture, scores of power and sail boats swinging at anchor while the sun shone brightly. Many members of the Capital City Yacht Club attended the annual event and were loud in their praises of the hospitality shown.

Fish Wouldn't Bite, Angler Couldn't Bite

One enthusiastic Sidney fisherman recently acquired a partial plate of teeth. The new plate replaces one which was lost recently. During a fishing trip, when all around him were enjoying marked success, the enthusiast was without a bite. In desperation he removed his false teeth and attached them to the end of his line. The final state showed the fisherman without a bite, without teeth and without enthusiasm. The fish which took the lure is now suitably equipped to bite through any line.

MORE DONATIONS

Further donations to the Sidney Community Club have been received by the president, Constable George Kent. These were received from Sterling Enterprises, Cornish Lending Library, Stan's Food Centre and F. C. Allen.

FENTON GOES TO NANAIMO

F. S. Fenton, who has been stationed for some time with the department of transport on Sidney Island, has been transferred to Nanaimo where he will assume charge of the radio range station. Mr. Fenton, who has resided here for the past eight years and who owns a residential property in Sidney, plans to return to this district on his retirement from federal government service.

Mr. Fenton's household effects were removed from Sidney Island by a Sidney Freight truck travelling on a barge. They were trucked north to Nanaimo.

His successor here has not yet been announced.

ON HOLIDAY

Jack Harter, accountant at the Sidney branch of the Bank of Montreal, is enjoying his annual vacation visiting B.C. interior points. During his absence, M. W. Bluck, of Vancouver, is relieving here.

Miss Pat Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hope of Towner Park, has recently joined the staff of the Sidney bank.

Where Is Mt. Tuam?

Butler Report Clarifies Problem

Where is Mount Tuam? Where is Maple Mountain? Where is Mount Tzouhalem?

George Hafer, who has resided in this district for many a year, is not too clear on the exact location of these giant mountains. Neither is Vic Dawson of Brentwood, Willard Ireland of Victoria, provincial architect, who has long given sundown attention to this district, is still somewhat in the dark.

Claude Butler of Keating, a native son of this area, is more certain of the whereabouts of major landmarks in the close vicinity. So is Robt. Derrinberg, a Saanichton farmer. A. E. Vogge, principal of Mount Newton high school, can point to these mountains with confidence.

Out the Window

Messrs. Hafer, Dawson, Ireland and Butler and some others gathered recently at Butchart's Gardens. From the main luncheon room they looked out the window to see a body of water, an island and a mountain. All agreed that the water was Tad Inlet and Brentwood Bay and that the island was Senanus Island.

Mr. Hafer contended that the height of land in the background was Mount Tuam on Salt Spring Island.

Drew Appeals For Support Of Gen. Pearkes at Polls

—Is Needed In Ottawa

Rt. Hon. Geo. Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservative party which is making a strong bid for election in the August 10 federal vote, is most anxious that his old friend, Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., be returned to the House of Commons with a greater majority than ever before. He appealed for enthusiastic support of General Pearkes in a breezy, open air political rally in Sidney's War Memorial Park on Monday afternoon of this week.

Presided over by Clement May of Deep Cove, the rally attracted a large crowd. Seated on the grass, the audience listened to the party leader through a loud speaker system and applause was spontaneous and frequent.

Is Nominated

General Pearkes, who was nominated last week as Progressive Conservative standard bearer in the new Esquimalt-Saanich constituency, introduced Col. Drew to the community of Sidney and Sidney to the party leader.

He said that in Ottawa he had made every effort to attain the things desperately needed in his constituency. He explained to Col. Drew that Sidney was one of the major gateways to Vancouver Island with frequent ferry service to the Gulf Islands, Vancouver and the United States. It is not only a marine gateway but a major air terminus as well. Many thousands of visitors come to this area each year, he said, and many are returning to establish permanent homes, attracted by almost ideal weather conditions.

World Traveller Sidney Visitor

Mrs. Edith McGill Clark, F.R.G.S., of Vancouver and Texado Island, was a week-end visitor in Sidney, a guest at Hotel Sidney. She is a niece of Mrs. J. B. Cumming of Swartz Bay.

Mrs. Clark served as a missionary in China for many years and speaks that language fluently. In recent years she has operated an importing business in Vancouver and made frequent visits to the Orient in this connection.

She has just returned from a 10 months' around the world trip by plane. In Copenhagen, Denmark, she attended a Soroptimist International convention and the world convention of social service workers in Madras, India.

Mrs. Clark is greatly attracted to the Saanich Peninsula and may take up permanent residence.

LUCKY HAND

In a recent cribbage game, F. J. C. Ball, playing with Mrs. J. P. de Macedo at the latter's home, Vesuvius Bay, held three fives and the Jack of Diamonds and the five of diamonds turned up.

ISLAND VISITOR

H. Georgeson, island lighthouse keeper and native son of Saturna Island, was a visitor to Sidney on Dominion Day. Mr. Georgeson was accompanied by Mrs. Georgeson and their children and grandchildren.

General Pearkes spoke of the substantial fishing industry which centres here. Agriculture is intensive, he said, mentioning heavy shipments of blooms each spring to eastern markets as well as the steady movement by air of strawberries to eastern Canada and the United States.

Deplores High Taxes

Many of the residents in the Sidney district are pensioners, continued General Pearkes. They are suffering because taxes continue to increase while their pensions do not. He deplored the continuing rise in taxes encouraged by the Liberal government in Ottawa. His party will reduce taxation and ease the problems of the pensioners, he promised.

Sidney has an excellent hospital operated by members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, said the general. These people are highly respected in the Sidney community where they have done a useful and kindly work for many years.

Kent Makes Presentation Of Trophy

Presentation of the F. N. Wright trophy to Roland Gilbert, of North Saanich high school, was made on Thursday evening of last week by Constable G. Kent of the Sidney detachment, R.C.M.P.

The trophy is donated by Fred N. Wright, Sidney businessman, to the pupil of a District 63 high school gaining the highest aggregate score in school athletics during the year.

Sports included are basketball, softball, association football, track and field meet and, for girls, volleyball.

This is the third year of its presentation. The first year it was won by North Saanich, last year it went to Mount Newton and it is now back in North Saanich. Third school competing for the trophy is Royal Oak high.

The presentation was made at the high school in the presence of the donor, sports and academic figures.

DEATH CLAIMS AGED LADY

Mrs. W. T. (Maude) Downing, aged 73 years, a resident of Queens Ave., Sidney, passed away in Rest Haven Hospital on Monday, June 29, following a long illness.

A native of England, she resided in Toronto until coming to Sidney four years ago. She was a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for 40 years.

Deceased is survived by her husband, at home; a daughter, Mrs. F. (Mae) Langford of Victoria; two sons, Laurence in Algeria and Walter L. in California. There are three grandchildren. A brother resides in England.

Funeral services were conducted from Thomson Funeral Parlors on Thursday afternoon by Elder S. G. White and interment followed at Royal Oak Burial Park.

To Restrict Traffic On Saanich Lane

Central Saanich council is to be asked to restrict traffic on Saanich Lane to one way only. The recommendation was made recently by C. D. T. Whitehouse. Mr. Whitehouse urged that the traffic be restricted from descending the hill. The road leads to the Keating school and concern has been expressed at the manner in which juvenile cyclists descend the hill.

Presentation To Mrs. Darvill

On the evening of June 25th, the St. Paul's United Church Junior Choir assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Parnell, East Saanich Road, for their final practice under the leadership of Mrs. S. Darvill. Throughout the evening, songs, games and piano numbers were enjoyed by the gathering. Following a farewell presentation to Mrs. Darvill from the choir, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Those present were: Mrs. S. Dar-vill, Mr. and Mrs. C. Parnell, Mrs. Tribune, succeeding choir leader, Rev. Buckingham, Barbara Munro, Rose Nunn, Hazel Nunn, Eileen Bowker, Eileen Gardner, Patsy Markle, Dorothy Luten and Jean McKay.

Others not able to attend included: Mrs. Buckingham, Lois Wilson and Jeannie Harris.

Faithful Service Is Commended

The congregation of St. Paul's United Church held a social hour on Sunday evening, June 28.

Presentations were made to Mrs. S. Darvill who has been organist and choir leader for the junior choir and also to H. Vine and F. Aldridge, organist and choirmaster respectively, of the senior choir.

The Rev. W. Buckingham, in presenting the purses, expressed the congregation's sincere appreciation of their faithful services.

Ruth E. Tribune, A.R.C.T., has been appointed organist and choir leader and will assume her duties immediately.

Rev. Lytle To Serve During Pastor's Absence

The Rev. William Lytle, F.R.A.I., will serve as locum tenens at the Sidney United Church for the month of July, during the Rev. W. Buckingham's holiday.

Ordained by the Methodist Church in England, the Rev. W. Lytle was the pastor of Rossendale Valley, Lancashire, before going to China as a missionary. He served in Ningpo, Chefoo and Tsinan, and Shanghai in evangelistic and educational work.

In the First World War he served as a lieutenant-colonel in the R.E.s in the British army. Together with Mrs. Lytle, he was imprisoned by the Japanese for three years in the Second World War. He came to Canada when released from internment, and has taught at University School and Qualicum College.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytle will be resident at the manse.

Dr. Newton Is Married In Vancouver Church

Wide interest was aroused in this district in the marriage in Vancouver on Friday evening, June 19, of Dr. William Evans Newton and Miss Margaret Ann Hunter Wells, only daughter of Mrs. Wells of Vancouver and the late W. Hunter Wells. The groom is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Newton, for many years residents of North Saanich. Dr. Newton was formerly in charge

Register Children For New School Term This Fall

McTavish school was the scene of a delightful children's concert and tea in honor of the mothers who were registering their children for the new term. Mrs. C. Ouehand and her pupils were congratulated on the splendid performance. The rhythm band, singing, dancing and a play were enjoyed by all.

Later, Mrs. Ouehand and Mrs. T. B. Foreman were gracious hostesses at the beautifully appointed tea table. Mrs. Foreman convened the tea which was sponsored by the Patricia Bay-McTavish P.T.A. On behalf of the P.T.A. Mrs. F. J. Eyes pinned a corsage on each guest while extending to her a cordial invitation to become a member. The children were honored by the presence of Miss Whisker, their recent student teacher who came from Victoria to attend the concert.

The beach at Bazan Bay was gay last week with many small fires and happy voices as the McTavish and Sansbury school children enjoyed their annual picnic.

Early in June, the McTavish students joined the Patricia elementary at Patricia Bay school for a most impressive coronation service. The gymnasium was decorated for the occasion and the children were presented with their coronation coins. Miss J. Chamberlain introduced the speakers and the platform guests, representatives of local organizations.

The children were a very attentive audience to the brilliant and interesting addresses of Rev. W. Buckingham and Constable G. F. Kerr. Mrs. W. A. Jones charmed everyone with her beautiful voice as did Mrs. E. J. Gray with her reading. Both the song and the verse were written especially for the coronation, the latter by a Sidney resident. Scouts Ian Hetman and Lyn Christian carried the colors.

Hello There!

Let me tell you what a prospective client of mine told me the other day and you'll see how much he had to learn about life insurance!

"Why, look here," he said to me, "I'm hanged if I can see what all the shouting's about. Isn't a policy a policy, and isn't an agent an agent? What difference could it make who sells me what policy as long as my life is insured?"

Well now, that fellow was easy to answer. Everything's different in this world, and it doesn't matter what commodity we discuss. Could you imagine a tailor trying to sell a midget an overcoat made for a tall man? And it's obvious that a lad of eighteen requires a different type of suit from a man of sixty. So it is with life insurance. No salesman would try to sell a bachelor a young $100 a year life insurance policy as a farmer with a wife and four children. The policies just wouldn't fit.

No sir, each agent has his own ideas and these are based on the training he has received and the company he represents. Now take my company, the Sun Life of Canada. Their agents are given the most extensive possible training. They know what's best for you — what Sun Life policy or policies you may need to round out a balanced sort of estate which will either add materially to the blessings of your retirement years or protect your loved ones as you would wish them protected if you were not around to look after them.

You see how wrong my client was. I'd sure like the chance to prove these claims to you. Let me tailor your estate to fit your exact requirements. You'll be under no obligation so why not get in touch with me?

BIG VOLUME IS DONE BY CREDIT UNION

Regular monthly meeting of the Saanich Peninsula Credit Union was held on Thursday, June 18, at the home of E. Sapsford. It was agreed to send Treasurer N. Shanks as a delegate to the convention of the B.C. Credit Union League in New Westminster.

The Credit Union's history in this area was reviewed. Starting with $29 in 1948, the Saanich Peninsula Credit Union has already done business totalling more than $50,000. Directors agreed unanimously that new members should be welcomed.

The Credit Union motto is: "Not for profit, not for charity, but for service".

PRESENTATION TO DEPARTING SISTER

Victory Temple No. 36, Pythian Sisters, held their meeting June 23 at the K. of P. Hall, with 32 members present.

Mrs. M. Chappuis gave the report for the auditing committee of the books.

A letter was received from the parks board asking the Pythian Sisters to be in charge of a stall for hot dogs and coffee for Sidney Day. The date for the bazaar to be held by the Pythian Sisters will be November 7. Flowers and a gift, also wishes for the best of health, were given to Mrs. W. Hetman who is leaving to live in Vancouver. It is hoped Mrs. Hetman will be able to return to Sidney in the near future. A gift was also given to Mrs. E. Sapsford who served as secretary for five and half years.

After the meeting a number of Pythian Sisters took part in a concert, much to the enjoyment of everyone present.

The tombola donated by Mrs. C. Burrows was won by Mrs. J. Smith. Refreshments were served. No meetings will be held in July and August. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

KEATING

The pupils of Keating school enjoyed their annual picnic at Elk Lake Park on Wednesday afternoon, June 24. They were transported in cars by the following parents: Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Grieve, Mrs. Hyslop, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Hakin, Mrs. Essery, Mrs. Stanlake, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Cronk, Mr. Henry, Mr. Pedersen, Mrs. Joyce and Mr. Forge. The weatherman proved kinder than usual at this time, and water sports were enjoyed, also softball games. Mr. Cronk kindly brought his outboard motor boat along on a trailer, and cruises in this were a highlight of the day for all the children. The final game in the school's own softball league was played off at this time, winners being the "Dodgers" score 10-4. Mr. Gardiner and Miss Pollard, Normal students, who had taught at the school earlier in the term were special guests. The refreshment stand did a good trade, dispensing hot dogs, pop, ice cream, water-melon and candy.

The swimming classes which are being sponsored by the Keating P.T.A. in co-operation with the Saanichton group, will start on Friday, July 3. Children taking part in this district are asked to be at Keating school by 9 a.m. from where they will be taken by bus to the Y.M.C.A., returning before noon to the same point. Two parents will accompany the group each week. The first time Mrs. Stanlake and Mrs. Bolster have offered to go. Others willing to do likewise on succeeding weeks please contact Mrs.

Brentwood softball fans have seen a lot of interesting games so far this season! Those who like to watch the more experienced players have seen Butlers Aces play some fine games at Central Park, Victoria. Chinese Students have been the hardest team to beat. At the end of the week the Students and Capital City topped the column with the Aces coming next. Aces and Students will play their next game on Thursday, July 2.

In the Colwood and District Softball League Brentwood is very well represented with seven teams. The teams are: bantam boys, bantam girls, midget boys, midget girls, juvenile boys, juvenile girls and senior men. All these teams are putting up a good show and are winning their share of games.

Recently the seniors played Elk Lake. It was a very good game but they lost out in the ninth inning when Elk Lake came through with three runs, making the score 3-0. In the midget league the boys have played North Saanich Service twice, winning both games. Last Friday, playing at Brentwood, they won with a score of 24-5. On Sunday, playing at North Saanich, they won again with a score of 12-11.

The midget girls played Sooke recently. This was a losing but well fought battle, the score was 19-12. The bantam girls played Sooke also. They won the game with a very one-sided score of 50-10. These young players are pleased to see the fans turn out to watch the game.

The Conservative leader spoke of the gross inefficiency of the department of national defence under the Liberal regime. Tremendous savings could be made without impairing efficiency. "Do you think General Pearkes would mislead you in this connection?" he asked. "He carries more evidence of valour on his breast than any other Canadian. No single man in Canada can speak today on national defence with greater authority than General Pearkes. I appeal to you to return him to Ottawa where he is sorely needed."

Brentwood girls and boys brought home most of the honors from Mount Newton junior high school at the close of the school year. Last Thursday, Principal A. E. Vogee presented awards for citizenship to Robert Gallagher, Wallace Drive; and Norma Bickford, West Road. David Lewis, Clark Road; Bill Gilby, Durrance Road; Doreen Bickford, West Road; and Joan Curl, West Road, all won prizes for proficiency. Others receiving prizes were: poster awards (presented by Mount Newton P.T.A.), Sylvia Cave, West Road; Helen VanNes, Benvenuto Ave.; and Robert Callaghan, Social study award; Gloria Lomas, West Road.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Capital City Yacht Club held their annual predicted log race recently, from Canoe Cove to Bedwell Harbor. Miss Barbara Atkins, West Road, was the winner of the race. She skippered Barbara H. There were 17 contestants.

Stan Bickford acted as general convener of the dance while Mrs. Hugh Macdonald was in charge of refreshments. An innovation this year was the serving of strawberry shortcake instead of strawberries and cream and the change was warmly commended by those attending.

In a draw conducted by Ted H. Loway, Mrs. Olson was the winner of a case of luscious strawberries.

Once that he had known Col. Drew intimately since the First Great War when the latter was an artillery commander, Col. Drew has always maintained a keen interest in old soldiers. He is a dynamic leader who merits the confidence and support of all parts of Canada.

In affable mood, Col. Drew mentioned his pleasure at meeting numbers of former Ontario friends in his audience. He spoke of his deep admiration and respect for the Esquimalt-Saanich candidate and urged his re-election with a substantial majority.

To another member of his audience, Col. Cy Peck, V.C., Col. Drew brought greetings and recalled a friendship of long standing. Both General Pearkes and Col. Peck, he pointed out, not only won the Victoria Cross but also have consistently done everything in their power to assist their fellow men in civilian life.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Neilson, formerly of this district, have disposed of their store at Goldbridge, B.C., and are taking up a homestead in the northern part of the province.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP

NO other single centre in Central Saanich or in North Saanich attracts more people every year to this district than Butchart Gardens. Because of the famed gardens' exceedingly long and most harmonious relationship with this part of the Peninsula, many of us at times are inclined to forget the major part it has played over the years in attracting tourists northward from Victoria and district. It has been a powerful factor in the development of this district for several generations.

Last week saw the gardens illuminated at night for the first time. Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross are fully deserving of community approbation for the progressive step which was taken this year. Night lighting of the gardens will increase substantially the numbers of visitors who come annually to Central Saanich and other parts of the Peninsula.

The fact that local craftsmen were responsible for carrying out the major construction job is pleasing to the entire community as well.

ELECTRICAL EXTENSION

THE suggestion was made some time ago that electric lines of the B.C. Power Commission might be extended at an early date from Salt Spring Island to Galiano, Mayne and other islands. Recently we've heard nothing about this progressive step. The hope has been expressed by many islanders that the plan has not been shelved indefinitely.

It is almost impossible to fully comprehend what progress would follow the extension of the Commission's lines to Galiano, Mayne, Saturna and North and South Pender. It would be perhaps the most stabilizing factor in the history of those islands.

It may be time for the Power Commission to make clear to the islanders just what extension is planned and when it will be carried out.

We know that developments of this nature cannot be completed overnight. But the public is entitled to some assurance that they are not shelved. In the same category falls the bridge which will link North and South Pender Islands. It is to be erected by the provincial government. A progress report on the construction of this bridge would be welcomed by residents of the islands affected.

THOUSANDS OF VETERANS

IT would be difficult and not immediately significant to estimate the exact number of veterans residing in this district. That the number is considerable is undeniable. Each veteran represents a member of the community who has worked and risked his career or his security in order to serve with the Canadian forces.

The Canadian Legion is formed of thousands of such veterans. They are bound together by the ties that held them as a unit during their military service and by the need for fraternity which is catered to by this veterans organization.

From the point of view of material benefit to the veteran the Legion represents a distinct hope of betterment for himself and his fellows. The provisions of various laws dealing with the position of a returned man place him in a position where he is aided if he should be incapacitated as a result of his service. The same laws make provision for his settlement in some kind of business or dwelling, to enable him to compete with that position he might well have held had he not enlisted.

Nevertheless, a large number of veterans or their dependents, each year, find themselves in difficulties. For this faction the Legion has its own organization and its own funds to ensure that any veteran, Legion member or otherwise, may enjoy freedom from want.

At the present time the Legion, across Canada, is making a drive for members. The purpose is not to gain the opportunity for co-operative profits. The various branches are not businesses. They are able to operate on the present scale. The group is seeking increased membership in order to gain a greater voice in the affairs of the nation.

Each year there is a certain amount of legislation passed, both by federal and provincial governments, regarding veterans. When ex-servicemen in general are dissatisfied with the legislation passed or seek further legislation it is only by the voice of such groups as the Legion that they can be heard. It is for this reason that the Legion is making its drive for increased membership.

Every veteran who is not already a member should make an effort to join the Legion. It is for his problems that the Legion exists.

... Letters To The Editor ...

ANSWERS MR. JAMES
Editor, Review,
Sir:

I was pleased to read in last issue of The Review a letter from W. C. James criticizing a sports column of mine that also appeared in this paper. But while I do appreciate some criticism, I feel most of Mr. James' was unjust and, indeed, trivial.

I feel my opinion of the game in question was quite justified and I reported simply what I saw.

Mr. James mentioned that I erroneously referred to the local team as "Sidney". He pointed out that the players "are drawn from Saanich Peninsula Branch No. 37 Legion area". I am fully cognizant of that fact, I feel, however, there is little point in referring to the team as "Branch No. 37 Legionnaires". Everybody realizes to what team I am referring when I say Sidney. That way it is easier and it uses less of The Review's valuable space.

There was little point in disagreeing about the poor show of the James Bay coach. I, and everyone else, agreed he was a thoroughly poor sport and a disgrace to the game, and I understood and sympathized with Unipre Ted Meredith's position.

Mr. James states "the whole unpleasantness of this game was initiated by" the Victoria coach. That is quite true. But does it excuse Sidney's actions? Do two wrongs make a right? I think not. The only way to have dealt with him was to have ignored him, since it was obvious that what everyone said to him went in one ear and out the other. Writing to the league, as your correspondent did, was the proper thing to do.

Although he seems to think I was wrong in saying pitcher Don Stenton "blew up", Mr. James, on the other hand, is quite mistaken in saying, "he asked to retire because of a very sore arm". Actually, Coach Don Stenton took out Don because he had another pitcher in reserve. It had nothing to do with a sore arm.

And as far as getting the facts are concerned, I am quite capable of doing that by myself. I would assure your correspondent. When I need Mr. Forster's help or anyone else's I'll ask for it. I reported the game truthfully and as far as I am concerned all my facts were correct.

"From that date, until late in August, there was no word of the 'Half Moon'. Then it was sighted 700 miles off shore by Captain Hall of the 'Mauna Loa', a passenger ship, plying between Honolulu and San Francisco.

"Later a message was flashed by the light-keeper on Destruction Island, off the coast of Washington: 'Half Moon sailing round and round island. Old man won't speak.'

"I thought my father must be ill. A ship, with a crew of seven, was put at my disposal to attempt a rescue voyage south; but the skipper was not enthusiastic because of the weather. Nevertheless, we drove ahead. At Neah Bay we learned from customs officials that nothing had been heard or seen of the 'Half Moon' from any of the fishermen or sailors who frequented the port. Hal George, an old Indian, took me in his fish boat on a search as far as the Umattil Light Ship. The fish boat leaked like a basket but we managed to get back to Neah Bay. There, a message was waiting from my father:

"Towed into La Push Harbor. That was a small harbor, some 30 miles south of Cape Flattery. I secured a 42-foot boat, the 'Viking', which happened to be loaded with ice. The co-operative skipper started at once. That night, as we went out between Tatoosh Island and the mainland in foggy weather, the skipper came below. He left only a young boy on watch in that treacherous weather. I felt uneasy, but next morning had to take my hat off to the boy who took the boat safely to its destination.

LOVELY VOYAGE

"The skipper pointed ahead. 'That's the boat you are looking for, anchored up river.' It was my father all right. But he had suffered severely from his lonely voyage of 97 days. During that time he had covered some 5,000 miles, without once using his engine. His ankles were enormously swollen. There was a bump on the back of his head as big as an orange. A sudden squall had thrown the boom over and knocked him unconscious so that he had lain prone in the cockpit for four hours. For several days, almost blind from the effects of the blow on his head, he remained helpless in his cabin while the 'Half Moon' sailed herself. His weight had dropped 40 pounds. He had also lost his hearing. That was why he had sailed around Destruction Island without speaking to the light keeper. He could not hear his calls and was trying to find out for himself what island it was.

"On the whole, his provision had lasted well. He found himself overstocked with biscuits, jam and bacon but somewhat short on flour, potatoes, tomatoes and lime juice. He used none of the 50 gallons of gasoline he had taken for the engine and returned with two gallons of the eight gallons of coal oil he had taken for cooking.

"My father had achieved a remarkable feat in navigation. Someone went so far as to say that he had created a record for a single-handed at sea. However that may be, he certainly established some sort of record in youthful exuberance for a man of 77. We took him to Mayne Island where he played like a kid with his grandchildren, Alison and Ashley, and soon recuperated.

"The gallant little 'Half Moon', a boat whose record should have ranked her value high, sold for $400. Before being sold, however, she took one last slap at my father. He went down into her with a lantern. Oil in the bilge exploded in his face."

As Captain George Maude finished telling his father's story, the "Cy Peck" approached Mayne Island, where the Maude family had lived for many years. The Captain, like his father, had been a Royal Navy man. I knew. His present job as master of the "Cy Peck" and promoter of its traffic, must have called for many personal adjustments. I asked about that.

The Captain grinned at the memory of his own discomfort. "When I first came back from war service in the navy I still had the naval way of issuing orders, for one thing: 'Smartly with that line!' I used to snap, 'Smartly with that line!' But the folks back home here soon fixed me."

Perhaps the Captain's tall son, Ashley, now a crew member of the "Cy Peck", and his young daughter Alison, had adjustments of their own to make. Steph remarked to Ashley, when they later met for a moment on deck, "You have a fair number of passengers aboard today, haven't you?"

Ashley glanced at her shyly, with no trace of interest in business matters. "Yes," he said, "But I like it best when there aren't any at all!"

a small boat breakwater at Sidney wharf has been awarded by the federal government to Victoria Pile Driving Company. The breakwater and floats will cost in the region of $4,000.

Meeting at the Ardmore Golf Club on Sunday featured a Salt Spring Island team and the home players. The visiting team was victorious. Following are the players: Salt Spring, D. K. Crofton, D. G. Crofton, J. Hale, W. Evans, F. Morris, C. Springford, Paddy Crofton, Rev. Aitkens, A. W. Drake, N. W. Wilson, Ardmore, Pat Hope, W. T. Sisson, A. Deidall, J. Anderson, A. Haynes, C. Gamble, H. T. S. Hope, H. L. Witherby, G. S. Pownall, A. Bastin.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Joulé, Sr., lent her Pender Island home for a bridge tea in aid of St. Peter's Anglican Church. Prizes were won by Mrs. A. E. Craddock, Mrs. P. Grimmer and E. Cartnell. Mrs. Joulé was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. Symes and Miss Ivy Logan.

Miss Vera Robson, accompanied by Miss Pierce, recently spent a couple of days visiting Mrs. S. H. Robson at Mayne Island.

Mrs. W. A. Alexander entertained a number of young ladies at the manse at Pender Island on Thursday in honor of Miss Lorna Sutherland, of Vancouver. During the afternoon's contests Miss Verna Hand and Miss Ruth Menzies were successful. The hostess was assisted at tea by her sister, Miss Sherman. Guests included Miss M. Dickinson, Miss F. Hand, Miss V. Hand, Miss M. Tolputt, Miss Isabel Corbett, Miss Mae Bowerman, Miss M. A. Smith, Miss R. H. Menzies, Miss Beth Brackett and Miss Grace Sherman.

Chaplin and Oswald, Vesuvius Bay breeders of poultry, who have specialized in the production of Plymouth Rocks, are gaining world renown for their famous birds. Last week the Salt Spring Island poultry farm shipped eight birds to the Japanese Imperial government. The local farm has gained recognition in this country and at the Wembley Exhibition in Britain.

In a tennis tournament played between the Harbour House team at Ganges and a team from Musgrave's Mountain on Sunday, the former players gained a victory. Visiting players were Mrs. Trench, Mrs. Miller, Miss Page, Mrs. Mogg, Mr. Trench, Mr. Mogg, Mr. Hoyt and W. Colfer. Harbour House team included Mrs. T. F. Speed, Mrs. Charlesworth, Miss Ruth Walter, Miss Di. Crofton, T. F. Speed, Desmond Crofton and G. Shove.

On Thursday evening of last week a Liberal meeting at Pender Island heard an address by Candidate M. B. Jackson, K.C. The speaker was supported by Mrs. Beckett, of Saanich; Alex. MacDonald, of North Saanich and Mrs. H. P. Hodges, of Victoria. R. S. W. Corbett was in the chair.

Mrs. W. L. Rogers and her baby returned home to Cranberry Marsh on Saturday from Victoria. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Wenda Johnson and Miss Brown and Miss Nellie Rogers, all of Victoria, who will spend a short holiday at her home.

Mrs. King, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Joyce King, arrived at Ganges on Sunday. They are residents of Shipman, in England. The visitors will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald O. King and Colin King, "Highcroft", Ganges.

Miss Eleanor Cropp gave a picnic for her pupils on the beach at Fulford Harbour on the last day of school. A few parents were also present.

Conservative women of Sidney and district will hold a meeting in the Wesley Hall on Friday evening. Speakers will include Mrs. Alec Monteith and Col. C. W. Peck, V.C. Also present will be Mrs. S. F. Tolmie and R. L. Maitland, K.C., Vancouver.

Rev. and Mrs. McNaughton, formerly of Salt Spring Island, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kyle at Deep Cove, prior to leaving for their new home in Saskatchewan.

Gala day in Sidney to be observed on Dominion Day will feature Indian war canoe races at the Sidney wharf.

After a search party had been organized to find the missing Lauretta Emery at Mayne Island, the youngster was found in the dispensary of Archie Georgeson's store, where she is assumed to have been sleeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Ballard and Mr. Chambers were among passengers leaving Saturna aboard the Island Princess on Thursday.

Lost, between Sidney and Experimental Station, one carriage robe.

The Review's Book Review

"Hitler", by Alan Bullock; Odhams; 738 pp. and appendices, $6.

This is not, by the author's preface, a review of National Socialism in Germany. It is a picture of Hitler, the child, the youth, the adult and the tyrant. It is significant that the writer, who has gained access to all kinds of information and material, should summarize the former German chancellor in the brief epithet, tyrant. Many observers tend to regard too closely the rise of Germany under Hitler and overlook the threat he represented to all forms of democratic freedom.

There are many interesting features to this somewhat lengthy dissertation. During the early days of his rise to fame Hitler was named Schickelgruber by his political opponents. This name was later to be borrowed when he was at war with the rest of the world. Its basis was that of the illegitimacy of an ancestor. By this calculation his name was not Hitler. The alternative appellation, however, was false, states the writer, as the illegitimacy was legally covered up by the early Hitler.

Lazy, moody, discontented and ready to grasp at any straw towards his goal of success, Hitler in his early youth is drawn with an unflattering pen. The writer sees him enter politics, not as a fervent protagonist of a new theory, but as a starving man grasping for an opportunity to better his own lot at the expense of his fellows.

That mental and physical character, allied with a suggested psychosis, amounting almost to a perversion, were the motivating forces to the rise of an unknown illiterate to the leadership of a nation. There was one further characteristic that saved the Fuehrer from insignificance and was probably the major influence in his life and that of Germany. From his early life Hitler was an outstanding orator. Oratory or common haranguing always impressed him in others and he was urged on by the power of his public speaking.

The story takes the reader through the difficult days following the First World War to the final days following the collapse of Germany in the Second World War. The same moody intolerance of contradiction that forced him to the leadership of the nation was directly instrumental in bringing the final collapse of that nation.

The life of Adolf Hitler is the somewhat pathetic story of the fall of a great nation from Victorian prosperity under the Hapsburgs to the degradation of defeat and partition. To every student of the 20th century this book is essential.—F.G.R.

It looks as if the Sidney Merchants have finally hit their stride.
Last week the girls came up with two brilliant wins to move a couple of matches closer to first place in the Women's Softball League. At this writing they trail the front running Individuals by three games.

They opened this week by beating Copley Bros. 5-2 in Sidney. It was their first victory over the city team this year.

Wednesday Jocelyn Richmond pitched a sharp two-hitter, edging the Individuals 2-0. It was probably Sidney's best pitched and best played games of the year.

Mrs. Tomlinson
Circle Secretary

The evening circle of the Ganges
United Church Women's Association held its monthly meeting recently in the church hall, with Mrs.
Cyril Wagg in the chair in the absence of the president.

The resignation of the secretary,
Mrs. G. E. Reynolds, owing to leaving the Island, was accepted with regret and her position will be taken over until fall, by Mrs. J. Tomlin-son.

Plans were made for an apron tea and home cooking stall to be held under the convenship of Mrs. G.
Colin Mout, Mrs. J. H. McGill.
Mrs. J. Tomlinson, on September
10 in the church hall.

There will be no meeting during July and August, the next will take place as usual on the last Monday in September.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Wagg and a silver collection was taken for the benefit of the funds.

BANKING BY MAIL
SAVES FARMERS' TIME

Nowadays, farmers are often too busy to spare time for trips into town. That's why many find the Bank of Montreal's "banking-by-mail" service particularly useful.

They save time and trouble by having the postman do their banking for them.

Banking by mail is quick, too.
Deposits and banking instructions received by the B. of M. through Post claim immediate attention.

Many a farmer makes a practice of sending in his poultry or livestock cheques for deposit in his savings account, along with his passbook which the B. of M. people mark up and return by the following post.

If you find it inconvenient to get into town during banking hours, write or call Jack Harder, accountant of Sidney's B. of M., telephone number, Sidney 193. He will gladly provide you with full details about banking by mail. Otherwise, you might drop into the B. of M.
next time you're in town and pick up a copy of the bank's leaflet about this useful time-saving service. ***

SALT SPRING ISLAND DOCTORS ARE HONORED ON DEPARTURE

A reception, sponsored by the board of the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital and the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce, was held recently at Harbour House, Ganges, in honor of, and as a farewell to, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Boyes and Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Ankenman, who are leaving the Island. The party, which was under the general convenship of Mrs. J. H. Deyell, with Mrs. J. B. Acland co-convenor, was attended by over 200 guests.

The floral decorations of the hotel rooms, in which shaded antirrhinums played a prominent part, were beautifully carried out by Mrs. A. R. Price, Mrs. J. Mitchell and Miss June Mitchell. A large silver bowl of pale blue delphiniums, pink antirrhinums, white campanula and pink roses centred the main table at which tea was poured by the heads of local organizations—Mrs. J. G. G. Bompas, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. W. W. Hipsley, Mrs. G. H. Holmes, Mrs. L. G. Mout, Miss C. T. Motherwell, Mrs. George St. Denis, Mrs. F. C. Turner, Mrs. C. J. Zenkie. Those assisting the refreshment convener, Mrs. L. Parham, were: Mrs. A. E. Duke, Mrs. M. R. Heath, Mrs. R. T. Meyer, Mrs. J. G. Mickleborough, Miss Muriel Harrington, Miss Dorothy Mickleborough, and the servers, under Mrs. Gerald Bullock, included Mrs. W. H. Bradley, Mrs. Peter Cartwright, Mrs. W. E. Dipple, Mrs. A. Francis, Mrs. J. E. Foster, Mrs. Mary Fellowes, Mrs. A. J. MacWilliam, Mrs. Austin Wells, Mrs. I. S. White.

Dr. and Mrs. Boyes and their young daughter leave at the end of June for Vancouver, where he will take a post-graduate course for three years and a further year at a Montreal hospital. Dr. Ankenman is also going to take a year's post-graduate course in pathology at Vancouver and will then continue with his surgery. For the last three weeks he has been at Nanaimo, acting as locum tenens for Dr. Larry Giovando. In spite of the coolness of the day several of the younger guests took advantage of the new swimming pool which in its lovely surroundings will undoubtedly prove a great acquisition to Harbour House.

Post-Nuptial Shower Honors Mrs. Roy Coleman

Mrs. D. A. Boyes and Mrs. T. F. Ayres were joint hostesses recently at the latter's home, Ganges, when they entertained several guests at a surprise post-nuptial shower given in honor of Mrs. Roy Coleman, nee Yolande Decosse, R.N., whose recent wedding took place in Seattle.

The rooms were decorated in a color scheme of pale green and white, streamers and balloons of the prevailing shades were used in a setting of pastel roses and syringa.

The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts, presented in a rose decorated basket by her hostess on behalf of the friends present and others unable to attend.

The supper table, at which Mrs. W. Pashley presided, was covered with a beautifully embroidered cloth of grass linen and centred with a taper-lit floral decorated shower cake ornamented in pale green, white and rose.

Following supper the guests were entertained by Mrs. Beulah Hunt with fortune telling, and among those present were Mrs. H. C. Alexander, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. Ernie Booth, Mrs. G. Bilton, Mrs. C. N. Brown, Mrs. Nels Degen, Mrs. Kenneth Fletcher, Mrs. Gordon Graham, Mrs. Warren Hastings, Mrs. Beulah Hunt, Mrs. Alex McManus, Mrs. E. Mortenson, Mrs. W. Pashley, Mrs. Austin Wells, Mrs. Ira S. White, Miss Frances Lees.

PLAYERS SCORE HIT

Three Productions Acclaimed

The amateur stage in North Saanich took its first bow on Friday and Saturday of last week, when Peninsula Players presented their first full evening's program in the auditorium of the North Saanich high school. The company presented three one-act plays. The first was a light comedy, the second a well-contrived play of a nature more difficult to portray and the third a farce.

The audiences were large and received the presentations enthusiastically.

Throughout the evening the entire company maintained a continuity of action and it was by no means obvious, at any point, that the casts were new to the stage.

In a few instances members of the cast experienced a little difficulty with their lines and the unfamiliar stage resulted in several players attempting to go through a door without opening it. Highly commendable was the prompt raising of the curtain at the advertised time.

No Cause

If the cast occasionally showed lack of familiarity with their parts the audience had no cause for criticism. At many points the audience was unresponsive and failed to diminish its conversation after the raising of the curtain. Discomfort to the visitors and to the cast was caused by late arrivals entering the theatre half-way through the first play.

It is difficult to choose one player as outstanding. Probably the three prominent characters were portrayed by Miss Jane Leigh, in the part of the mother, in "Heaven on Earth"; Eric Vickerman and Penella Paterson as husband and wife in "Black and White". The two latter had the greatest difficulty, in playing a part requiring only histrionic ability and no setting or other assistance. They were obliged to portray a "flash-back" which is no mean feat on the stage.

In the first play Patricia Gray was guilty of the vice which was shared by a number. Her actions were excellent, but her voice could not be heard in the rear of the hall. Light and amusing the play was featured by a consistent attention by all the cast to facing the audience. For this alone the cast deserves commendation.

The second play was the difficult one. Ella Harrison was not too loud in her lines and many failed to hear her. John Gray was completely in command of the situation and only gives place to the other two players by virtue of their more difficult roles. Miss Paterson and Mr. Vickerman maintained a high standard throughout. Because it was the most difficult, it was probably the best of the three offerings.

Hard Pressed

The third play was farce. In many ways it was a poor selection. A professional company would probably scorn it. An amateur company is hard pressed to keep up the pace.

The cast was steadily good throughout, but they consistently lost speed. Again, here, the audience was hard-pressed to hear a number of the players. The audience was amused, but a music-hall pace would have kept them more so.

Arthur Byford, as the doctor, was consistent and to a major degree responsible for continuity. Jean Christie and Mary Wright were the comics and clowning their way through effectively. Probably the best of all, however, was John Kennaird, who was obliged to appear in his underpants and did so with the nonchalance of one who scarcely notices the lack of more conventional garments.

Excellent Direction

The direction was good. In the case of "Black and White" it was excellent. In the first play the direction appeared to have slipped off slightly on the portrayal of the heman hiker by David Smart. Neither Mr. Smart nor the audience was quite sure of the character he played.

Direction in the case of the farce was faced with a problem beyond the ability to be expected of an amateur. It was maintained steadily, but many more weeks of practice

A CHILD'S FAITH

To a youngster, it seems that mother and dad are able to do almost anything. They can repair a broken toy, heal a cut finger, or brush away fear. A child's faith is one of the treasured rewards of parenthood. The feeling of relief and security inspired by the presence of the family physician as he ministers to a loved one is much the same. The physician's mere presence in time of emergency instills confidence, removes fear. The family physician is indeed a servant of mankind.

Wise Gardener

Notes From Saanichton Experimental Station

Garden crops which suffer from lack of water are the shallow rooted crops which make most of their growth during the summer months. These would include celery, lettuce, onions, spinach, radish, corn and summer cauliflower. Medium rooted crops such as beans, beet, carrot, chard, cucumber, peas, pepper, turnips and summer squash can get along somewhat better with restricted moisture, while the deep rooted crops can best survive periods of drought. In this latter category are asparagus, cantaloupe, parsnip, pumpkin, winter squash, watermelons and tomatoes.

It is easy to see how light, frequent sprinklings are unlikely to do as much good to deep rooted crops as heavy, infrequent irrigations. Where the surface layer only is wetted, a large part is lost through evaporation and never reaches the root system of the plant for which it is intended. For shallow rooted crops, somewhat more frequent and less heavy irrigation should be the aim.

To know when to water by watching the crops comes with experience. There are signs, however, which should be watched for. A general slowing down in the rate of growth, with slow development of new shoots should be watched for. Certain crops have very definite symptoms of a shortage of water. Corn, for example, shows a characteristic sign of a shortage of water in an inrolling of the margins of the leaves.

Strawberries

It has been of interest to note that our main crop strawberry, the British Sovereign, is an early maturing berry. Premier is the only berry active in the Station plots this season that is earlier and by only four days. Perle de Prague, a variety considered early in Britain is from two to four days later than British Sovereign. Red Crop and Sparkle from eastern U.S. were also slightly later in ripening. Climax, one of the main commercial varieties in Britain ripened 11 days later than British Sovereign. This could be an advantage in some cases for local marketing. Climax too, tends to produce a very good second crop of berries in late season.

In about another week will be time to start lifting tulips. Lifting them just as soon as the tops have withered and before they become dry and brittle is a good plan so that the foliage and stems which harbour disease can be more thoroughly cleaned up and burned. This procedure will help to reduce the amount of fire next year as there will be that much less infection returned to the soil when it is worked over for next year's planting. While a better plan is to plant tulips in fresh ground each year this is not often possible in small gardens or where one desires to utilize the same site. Where the same bed must be used each year and in cases where the soil is sufficiently deep to permit, one can bury the top spit and bring up the one underneath to the surface. In this way the tulips will be planted well above infected soil if the operation is done sufficiently deep and thoroughly. Still another method is to change the top soil and bring in fresh soil. This would be applicable where the soil did not have sufficient depth to carry out the previous suggestion.

An Alternative

Both these methods entail considerable labor however, and one may not think it worth the effort for the sake of keeping tulip fire disease under control. Another alternative and one which is less laborious is as follows. While digging the area over in preparation for fall planting, pour a solution of formalin and water (one percent strength) in the bottom of each trench as it is opened while digging across the bed. A one percent solution is made by mixing one gallon of standard formaldehyde solution in 99 gallons of water. This is used in the trench at the rate of one gallon of solution per cubic foot of soil. As soon as each trench has received the solution—a sprinkling can is a convenient way of applying it—the trench is covered with soil taken from the spit which becomes the next trench to be treated. Because it is the fumes that are the sterilizing agent as they permeate the soil, immediate coverage is important.

For best results the whole area should be covered with sacks wetted with the solution or else a tarpaulin, canvas, or heavy building paper. The cover is left on for a couple of days after which it is removed to aerate the soil for 10 days to two weeks before planting. It is also important that the soil be treated during periods of warm weather because the formalin is more effective at a higher temperature.

From this it will be seen that controlling fire is not a simple matter. Rotating the tulip planting so that tulips are not planted on the same ground oftener than once in three and preferably four years is the simplest, most practical and most effective method of control. Whatever method is used, removal of the "primaries" or "fire heads" as soon as they appear should be carried out. Foliage sprays such as Ferbam (Fermate) and Dithane are helpful but these only supplement and do not dispense with removal (roguing) of the primaries.

SAANICH PENINSULA BRANCH NO. 37 LEGION NEWS

(By W. Tibbets)

Our secretary, Comrade F. B. Leigh, has asked me to advise you that on July 8, at 8 p.m., in the Britannia branch. There will be a meeting in honor of Comrade Lumsden, Dominion president. It is sincerely hoped that as many as possible will attend.

For the benefit of those who have not attended the branch lately, your lounge has been enlarged with a hallway from the front door. When entering it is not now necessary to walk between the TV and the TV viewers; nice work! The kitchen has a nice new coat of white paint.

Why not come and enjoy a nice evening, bring your friend and meet some new ones.

To refer back to our last regular meeting and the talk given to us by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., there are now between one and a quarter and one and one half million veterans in Canada. Split that a lot of people! It would also be fair to assume that the average family would be about one and a half children. Therefore their average family would be a total of three and a half.

If we multiply the above figure by 3½ we get 4,725,000. The population of Canada is roughly 14,000,000. Quite a force, what?

Summer Dish Cloths

It is wise to keep two dish cloths in the summer. One can always be airing and sunning while the other is being used. Then there will be no danger of a sour-smelling dish cloth, which is so inclined to happen in the warm weather.

DEEP COVE

When Deep Cove school spent its annual picnic at the grounds of The Chalet on Tuesday afternoon June 23, approximately 60 happy school and pre-school children enjoyed races and games under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ozero and Mrs. R. McLennan. Prizes were provided by the Deep Cove P.T.A. Hot dogs and cool drinks were served by the refreshment committee of the P.T.A., Mrs. J. C. Erickson, Mrs. L. Thornley, Mrs. J. Graham, Mrs. H. Ridge and Mrs. R. Ridge. A treat ticket, entitling the holder to an ice cream was presented to each student by the P.T.A. The picnic started with a hike from the Deep Cove school to The Chalet, with many mothers in attendance. Cloudy, cool weather prohibited bathing, but the children returned home prepared for the close of the school year.

Miss S. G. Booth, Downey Road, was guest speaker at Deep Cove Sunday school on June 28. This session ended the term and there will be no more classes until September.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Ozero, Revelstoke, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ozero, Madrona Drive.

Mrs. Ozero entertained 15 guests recently in honor of her mother, Mrs. E. S. Hall, Victoria. The occasion being Mrs. Hall's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hawkins and Lorraine, of Victoria, are holidaying at their summer cottage, "E.E.E.", on Madrona Drive.

Bobbie and Richard Pollard, of Vancouver, are guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ozero, Madrona Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hay, Cypress Road, left on Monday by motor for Edmonton and Regina, and will return home via the United States.

R. Gilchrist took five Boy Scouts on a trip to Port Alberni and other up-island points. The boys who made the journey were Robert McLennan, Michael Darrell, Bob Johnson, Ken Ozero and Ronald Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ozero and family, Madrona Drive, left on a holiday. They will visit in the United States, attend the Calgary Stampede and visit with relatives in Revelstoke.

Church Garden Party Attracts Large Crowd

The annual garden party of St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, at The Latch, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gile, was attended by nearly 300 persons on Wednesday, June 24. In spite of threatening clouds early in the morning, the weather was kind, and everybody enjoyed the tea served by the Women's Altar Guild on the terrace overlooking the lovely grounds.

The various stalls were generously patronized and over $400 was turned over to the church committee for parish needs.

Children from Sidney school, under the direction of Mrs. Tyler, entertained the guests with smartly costumed Maypole dances.

Major General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., drew the lucky numbers for the gate prize and the chicken dinner, the winners being Miss Joan Beard of the Indian Mission Administration, and Miss Edythe Smart, of Sidney.

In and AROUND TOWN

Miss Sharon Ward of Portland, Ore., is a guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Charlesworth, Dencross Terrace.

Hugh North, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. North, McTavish Road, left Saturday by T.C.A. to spend the summer holidays with his grandparents, at Birtle, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Grossehnig, Beacon Ave., left on Monday for New York, where they will attend the Jehovah Witness convention.

D. C. Dickeson has returned to his home on Fourth St., following surgical treatment in Veterans' Hospital, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Gordon, Fifth St., have returned home following their annual holiday spent at Vancouver and Comox.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson and family, of Vancouver, were holiday guests of Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Graham, Lochside Drive.
